EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

---

Computer Science and Integrated Business student at the University of Central Florida with experience in entrepreneurship, web development, client relations, and event operations. I've built and managed projects across e-commerce, DJ services, website development, and hosting, giving me hands-on experience in customer acquisition, digital marketing, technical problem-solving, and business operations. I'm interested in using technology, creativity, and practical business systems to help brands improve their online presence, connect with customers, and operate more effectively.
